Item. 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

Aptevo Research and Development LLC (“Aptevo R&D”), a subsidiary of Aptevo Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”), and MorphoSys AG (“MorphoSys”), are parties to that certain License and Co-Development Agreement, dated as of August 19, 2014, as amended by that certain (i) First Amendment, effective as of July 8, 2015, (ii) Second Amendment, effective as of December 7, 2015, (iii) Third Amendment, effective as of December 8, 2016 and (iv) Fourth Amendment effective as of June 19, 2017 (collectively referred to as the “Collaboration Agreement”) pursuant to which Aptevo R&D and MorphoSys agreed to the joint worldwide development and commercialization of MOR209/ES414, a targeted immunotherapeutic for the treatment of metastatic castration resistant prostate cancer (mCRPC). Effective August 31, 2017, MorphoSys terminated the Collaboration Agreement.

In accordance with the initial terms of the Collaboration Agreement, the Company received a nonrefundable $20.0 million upfront payment, a $5.0 million milestone payment and could have received up to $163.0 million in additional contingent payments, comprised of up to $80.0 million and up to $83.0 million, respectively, due upon the achievement of specified development and regulatory milestones. MorphoSys and the Company agreed to jointly fund further development of MOR209/ES414, with the Company responsible for 36% of the total development costs and MorphoSys responsible for the remainder, with the Company’s funding requirement capped at $186.0 million. The Company’s development effort included the performance of non-clinical, clinical, manufacturing and regulatory activities. The Company retained commercialization rights in the United States and Canada, with a tiered royalty obligation to MorphoSys, ranging from mid-single digit up to 20% of sales. MorphoSys had worldwide commercialization rights excluding the United States and Canada, with a low single digit royalty obligation to the Company. Upon termination of the Agreement, the Company regains worldwide commercialization rights.

In December 2015, the Company and MorphoSys amended the Collaboration Agreement to (1) decrease the additional contingent payments due to the Company upon the achievement of specified development and regulatory milestones of up to $32.5 million and up to $41.5 million, respectively, (2) change the total funding requirement cap for the Company to up to approximately $250 million and (3) change the jointly funded development cost allocation. In December 2016, the Collaboration Agreement was further amended to adjust the allocation of certain manufacturing and development costs and extend MorphoSys’s convenience termination rights. In June 2017, the Collaboration Agreement was further amended to extend the periods pertaining to the development costs. Under the amendment, the Company bore 75% of all development costs with respect to MOR209/ES414, and MorphoSys bore 25% of such costs, during the period from January 1, 2017 through August 31, 2017.
